

Congress Has Housing Bill On Final Lap

By FRANCIS M. LEMAY

Washington, July 7 (AP)—The administration's vast housing bill today hit the final lap of its long trip through Congress.

Democratic leaders confidently expected to hand the trimmed-down measure to President Truman before the day was over, following its approval in compromise form late yesterday by a House-Senate conference committee.

The bill, marking the first major success for Mr. Truman's "fair deal" program, was passed in differing versions by the Senate and House. It calls for a multi-billion dollar program of public housing, slum clearance and farm housing aids.

All that was needed before Mr. Truman could sign the compromise into law was its approval by the two chambers of Congress.

Administration leaders, who had barely snatched the bill's public housing feature from defeat in the House, were jubilant over the prospect of seeing it finally enacted.

Estimates of the total cost of the program—including slum clearance and farm housing aids—run from $10,000,000,000 to $14,000,000,000, and more.

The House-Senate conference committee agreed to a $325,000,000 figure for farm housing help, as passed by the Senate, instead of the $312,500,000 in the House bill.

Here is what the Housing bill would do:

1. Provide a five-year slum clearance program, with one-third of the cost to be met by the federal government and the balance by local loans and $500,000,000 in grants to states and local public bodies for this program.

2. Requires local authorities to select the low-income occupants of the public housing units, and to set the rent at what these families can pay. The federal subsidies would make up the difference between the rents and the amount actually needed to pay for the housing projects.

3. Divides the farm housing program into three parts. The first part provides for long-term loans at not more than 4 per cent interest to owners of self-sustaining farms unable to obtain financing elsewhere. The second part sets up a similar loan program, with annual federal contributions, to owners whose farms were not at the time self-sustaining. The third part provides loans for minor improvements on farms that could not be made self-sustaining.

4. Sets up a research program to find cheaper ways of building homes.

5. Provides (A) a 60-day extension of temporary government authority to insure loans by private lenders up to $2,500 for repairing and remodeling existing structures; (B) a 60-day extension of authority to insure mortgages for construction of small homes costing up to $5,000; and (C) a $500,000,000 increase in the amount of mortgage insurance that the government can issue for single family and multiple dwelling units.

Jap Railway Chief Slain By Assassin

Labor Trouble Blamed In Political Killing

Tokyo, July 7 (AP)—New violence marked Japan's worsening labor situation today.

A state of national emergency appeared in the offing.

Ibaragi prefecture miners joined in the general unrest. They protested and demonstrated against arrest of 19 of their number and discharge of 200 more.

Evidence mounted to indicate the country's first political murder since the occupation had been committed. The victim was Sadatoshi Shimoyama, president of the National Railway corporation.

Doctors said there were strong indications he had been dead at least 12 hours before his body was mangled by a speeding freight train in Tokyo Tuesday.

Shimoyama had just issued discharge notices to 30,000 of 95,000 rail workers scheduled to be let out under an American sponsored retrenchment plan.

Prime minister Shigeru Yoshida was said by a member of his cabinet to be demanding the ousting of National Police Superintendent Noboru Saito.

The miners' participation in the general unrest was a surprise.

LINEMAN ELECTROCUTED

Memphis, (AP)—A veteran Detroit Edison Co. lineman was electrocuted Wednesday by a storm-damaged high tension power line. The victim was Ronald Passey, 38, employed by the company for 15 years. Funeral services will be held tomorrow.

Michigan Cools Off For Couple Of Days; Detroit Has Deluge

By the Associated Press

A cold air mass shifted unexpectedly Wednesday and upset weather bureau predictions.

This means Michigan will cool off, at least for a couple of days. The mercury won't get much above 80 anywhere in the state.

Little rain is expected today or Friday in lower Michigan, according to the weatherman. The western Upper Peninsula will have occasional showers.

Wednesday's shifting air mass, shoved southward by a change in wind in northern Canada, deluged southeastern Michigan with heavy rains. Detroit got an inch of rain in two hours. This was easily half the total rainfall recorded during the entire previous month.

In Ypsilanti, it fell even heavier, with two inches in 90 minutes. Outside the southeastern area, the rain was lighter.

A Detroit Edison lineman, Ronald Passey, 38, was electrocuted while working on a damaged power line in Detroit. Lines were put out by the storm in Washington and Macomb counties and around Dundee in Monroe county.

Detroit's streets were flooded in many places and water from blocked sewers spurted up like geysers out of manholes. The temperature tumbled from 81 to 74 degrees.

Just before the storm, Mrs. Mary Watson, 63, died of heat exhaustion in Detroit. She was the city's 10th heat victim this year.

Heavy rains knocked over wheat and corn in Monroe county with considerable loss to farmers.

Air War Puts Down Grasshopper Plague

Battle Not Over Yet In Wyoming And Montana

Denver, July 7 (AP)—The air war on grasshoppers in Wyoming and Montana has "temporarily" put down the threat of a plague in the grain belt.

Jim R. Dutton, chief of the U. S. Grasshopper Control Division, emphasized the word "temporarily" in an interview today on the results of an aerial plane poison-spreading campaign against the hungry insects in those states.

The battle isn't over, he says, not by a long shot.

If the Wyoming-Montana "hopper" armies had been left alone, Dutton declared, they would have made the current Nevada battle look silly.

The Nevada hordes of full grown, migratory grasshoppers have crossed the northwest border of the state on a 75 mile front into the fringes of California and Oregon. Moving at the rate of two to six miles a day, they now cover about a million acres.

There isn't much that can be done now to halt this invasion, Dutton said. Poison has been spread in advance of the insects and a good kill is reported in fields where the grasshoppers land, but often they fly right over the baited areas.

USDA experts are following the "hoppers" and when they select their egg-laying grounds these will be charted for poison bombing next spring, Dutton said.

Mayor of Detroit Hunts Communists On City Payrolls

Detroit, July 7 (AP)—With a "loyalty board" in operation, Mayor Eugene I. Van Antwerp warred today against any Communists who might be on the city payroll.

His announced intention was to clean "Reds" out of municipal jobs if any were found among Detroit's 30,000 employees.

Initial inquiries indicated there were few, if any at all.

An informal survey among department heads in the municipal structure resulted in expressions of much doubt that "infiltration" was extensive.

At the same time a number of executives were firm in indicating they'd made short shrift of any Communists they came upon.

First Major Steel Strike Since 1946 Threatens U. S.

TOKYO ROSE GOES TO TRIAL — Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino, known to Pacific War veterans as Tokyo Rose, is led into Federal Court in San Francisco to face a charge of treason. If convicted she faces a maximum penalty of death. Minimum penalty for the offense is five years imprisonment plus a $10,000 fine. Mrs. D'Aquino has already been in prison for two years awaiting trial.

Lawmakers Hear Guarded Report On Atom Missiles

By OLIVER W. DE WOLF

Washington, July 7 (AP)—An army general said today there has been a "complete model change" in the atomic bomb since the Atomic Energy commission took over the project in 1947.

Brig. Gen. James McCormack, Jr., director of the AEC's military application division, also said that all production "bottle-necks" "worthy of serious concern" now have been broken and weapons

Britain Gets Only Sympathy From U. S.

Latest Financial Plight England's Own Problem

By JACK BELL

Washington, July 7 (AP)—Great Britain seemed likely today to get American sympathy — and not much else — in her newest financial plight.

Members of congress generally reacted coolly to the announcement that Britain is down to her last $1,642,000,000 in gold and dollars.

Their general observation was that the problem is one the British will have to solve for themselves without increased U. S. financial aid.

In diplomatic circles, Secretary of State Acheson displayed a tendency to discount the British situation somewhat.

He said that, like an individual whose income drops, Britain was cutting her purchases. He added this was an unfortunate temporary necessity, however, and not a permanent solution.

Unless congress changes the figure, England will get $250,000,000 in Marshall plan aid this year. That was taken into account by Sir Stafford Cripps, finance minister, in announcing drastic cuts in buying from the United States and other dollar areas.

Democrats and Republicans joined in saying that beyond the Marshall plan aid the British had better not count on additional U. S. help.

Bee Sting Is Bullet In Milwaukee Boy

Milwaukee, July 7 (AP)—Young Mike Dragolovich wasn't stung by a bee at all—he was hit by a .22 caliber bullet.

That was the word from physicians last night after nine-year-old Mike had hiked two miles with the slug in the right side of his chest.

Mike and his two sisters were playing yesterday in a dump area. Suddenly Mike screamed, "I'm stung." Then he headed home, about two miles away, but was afraid to tell his mother he'd been playing at the dump.

His arm began to ache, though. Still he didn't talk, but his sisters did. An ambulance took him to a hospital and X-rays disclosed the slug. His condition was described as good.

FARMER DIES IN WELL

Monroe, (AP)—Coroner Earl Little is investigating the cause of the death of 64-year-old Edward C. Hoffman, a farmer whose body was found Wednesday in an abandoned well on his farm north of here. Water in the well was six feet deep.

Weak Opposition To Atlantic Pact Speaks Up Today

By DON WHITEHEAD

Washington, July 7 (AP)—The numerically weak opposition to the Atlantic treaty got a chance today to speak out in Senate debate against ratifying the pact.

A final vote may come tomorrow or early next week. Confident party leaders said the only question remaining is how overwhelming the vote of approval will be.

Some senators say they now believe there may be no more than four to six votes against the 12-nation alliance designed to defend the western world against aggression. A two-thirds vote of the Senate will ratify the agreement for the U. S.

Senator Watkins (R-Utah) was listed to talk first in opposition.

Watkins wants the Senate to adopt reservations to the compact expressly providing: (1) a declaration that no armed forces will be sent into action without approval by Congress; and (2) an understanding there is no commitment to declare war if a pact nation is attacked.

Watkins said he will vote against the pact unless his reservations are adopted. There appeared little if any chance the Senate would approve them.

Another treaty critic—Senator Donnell (R-Mo.)—was slated to speak shortly. But Donnell has refused to say whether he will vote for or against the treaty in the end.

Senator Malone (R-Nev.) and Langer (R-ND) both say they will oppose the pact. But neither, they say, plans a long speech.

Senator Flanders (R-Vt.) also remained on the "doubtful" list. Flanders told a reporter he would make his position clear in a brief speech today or tomorrow.

The surprising lack of opposition to the treaty became obvious during the past few days. Senate leaders had anticipated the debate might drag out over a full month. Now they hope four days will do the job.

Air Liner Disabled 600 Miles Over Sea

Return Trip To Ireland Made On 3 Engines

Shannon, Ireland, July 7 (AP)—Fifty four passengers on a Trans-Atlantic plane forced to turn back when it developed engine trouble 600 miles off of Shannon, breathed a sigh of relief today when the plane arrived back here.

"I can swim," said comedian Danny Kaye, one of those aboard, "but not 600 miles."

The Pan American World Airways stratuocruiser carried a crew of nine. It was enroute from London to New York.

The pilot, Capt. H. G. Gunbransen of Lake Success, N. Y., said a magnesium fire broke out in one of the port engines. When he tried cutting off that one motor, the propeller fell off, he said.

Gunbransen said he took the ship down from 18,000 to 3,000 feet, "we were ready to ditch on the ocean," he added.

The plane, using three engines, made it back to Shannon in three hours and 45 minutes. The airline is sending two planes from London today to take the passengers on to New York.

Other passengers included tennis stars Louise Brough and Margaret Osborne duPont returning from the Wimbledon tournament. They won the women's doubles and Miss Brough the women's singles crown.

Three Munising Men Await Sentence For U. S. Lumber Thefts

Grand Rapids, July 7 (AP)—Rudolph Brais, 31, of St. Agnes, Ont., was sentenced to a year in prison today by Federal Judge Raymond W. Starr for re-entering the United States at Sault Ste. Marie from Canada after once having been deported.

Judge Starr set July 11 for sentencing three Munising men who pleaded guilty of theft and sale of $2,000 worth of lumber owned by the U. S. Forestry Service.

They are Leo LeBeque, 28, Clayton St. Martin, 26, and Charles Kelly, 23.

Dayton, O., Flooded When Main Bruts

Dayton, O., July 7 (AP)—Some 20,000,000 gallons of water poured over a section of downtown Dayton yesterday after a 24-inch water main burst five feet underground.

Thousands of Dayton residents were without water for nearly two hours.

Water swirled to a depth of five feet in places and almost covered the tops of nearly a dozen parked automobiles.

Fourth Round Wage Demands Of Union Draw Flat Rejection

Policy Group Considers Walkout July 16

By ELAINE KAHN

Pittsburgh, July 7 (AP)—The nation today faced the threat of its first major steel strike since 1946. U. S. Steel Corp., bellwether of the industry, yesterday said "No" to demands of the CIO-United Steelworkers for a fourth round wage increase and for company financed pension and insurance programs.

The union immediately called a July 13 meeting of its wage policy committee to consider a possible strike July 16.

Contract negotiations between the steel union and the nation's No. 1 steel producer were recessed indefinitely. The talks had just resumed after a two-week recess.

Dickers Deadlocked

Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the steelworkers, told a press conference:

"They (the steel corp.) merely say no to the union and they say so with an air of complete finality.  The conferences are deadlocked. There is no hope as I see it at present of a mutually satisfactory agreement being arrived at on any of the issues."

The steel corporation turned down the wage increase. It told the union its refusal to discuss pensions could be arbitrated and that any insurance program would have to be paid for equally by union and company.

The present contract has almost a year to run. It was reopened this summer on "rates of pay" and insurance. The contract permits a strike if no agreement is reached by July 16.

A statement from U. S. Steel covered the union demands this way:

1.—Wages: "We are convinced that no sound reasons justify an increase this time. A period of slackening business activity through the country is certainly no time to increase costs of production through the imposition of higher employment costs. ***"

2.—Pensions: "We propose that this issue of whether or not the contract can now be reopened by the union on this subject be presented  to the board of conciliation and arbitration for decision." The corporation has insisted only rates of pay and insurance could be discussed this year.

3.—Insurance: "The companies (six U. S. Steel subsidiaries) continue willing to arrange  for insurance benefits  but only on the express understanding that

Milwaukee Hotels Expect Jam During U.A.W. Convention

Milwaukee, July 7 (AP)—The CIO's United Auto Workers pleaded for private rooms today as the first of an expected 2,400 convention delegates threatened to put hotel rooms at a premium.

UAW officials said it already has become obvious that hotels will not be able to accommodate all of the delegates arriving for the one-week meeting opening Sunday at the auditorium.

International secretary Emil Mazey said UAW-CIO executive board members would arrive today for a 1 p. m. meeting to iron out final plans for the convention sessions.

CUTWORKS HIT MIDLAND

Midland, (AP)—Army cutworms are playing havoc with the trees, lawns and gardens of residents of northeast Midland. City Manager John M. Biery indicated he might have to ask the city health department to deal with the pests.

Federal School Aid Pledged By Truman

Bill Promised At This Session Of Congress

Boston, July 7 (AP)—President Truman said in a message today that he hopes to sign a "satisfactory" bill for federal aid to education in this session of congress.

The president sent his message to the annual convention of the National Education Association and said:

"I have repeatedly pledged my support to federal aid to the states in the amount of $300,000,000 annually for the purpose of more nearly equalizing educational opportunities and improving the salaries of our teachers.

"As you know, such an appropriation was provided for in the budget for this year and a bill has been passed by the Senate. I fully expect the House committee, and the House, itself, to take early and favorable action on this subject."

The NEA's 3,000 convention delegates were due to consider later a resolution on federal aid which says:

"The association recommends that federal funds be made available to assist the states in meeting the immediate needs of public school housing."

Congress Lobbyists Lose Seats During Repairs at Capitol

Washington, July 7 (AP)—With the "no admittance" sign hanging outside the temporary Senate and House chambers, congressional lobbyists are finding themselves literally lobbyists.

It used to be that the lobbyists could sit in the Senate and House galleries. Now that the two bodies have moved to temporary and cramped quarters during repairs to the capitol, the public has been excluded from all sessions.

The lobbyists now populate the corridors outside the temporary chambers. As many as a score of them line up against the walls waiting for congressmen to come outside.

'Pioneer Day' Program At Ford River Sunday; Fuller Among Speakers

The old days at Ford River, one of Delta county's earlier lumbering centers, will be revived in storied recollection Sunday afternoon when residents and former residents of that community gather for a "pioneer day" program sponsored by the Delta County Historical Society.

A family picnic starting at noon in the "old grove" will mark the assembling of Ford River people and Historical Society members.

Harold Fuller scheduled to start at 2 o'clock with Harold Fuller of Lansing, son of the late O. B. Fuller, former auditor general and one of Ford River's most illustrious sons, as one of the principal speakers. Harold Fuller was born at Ford River in 1888 and is now general accountant for Michigan. He will arrive here from Lansing on Friday.

Frank Bender jr. of Ford River, Historical Society president, will open the meeting and John J. Bartella of Escanaba, former Ford River resident, will be program master of ceremonies.

A paper on the history of the Ford River community will be presented by Mrs. Paul Rademacher of Escanaba and Ford River, and this paper will be filed with the Society as will the one being prepared by Mr. Fuller.

The informal program will include group singing led by Sam Ham of Escanaba, director of the local unit of the Barbershop chorus, in oldtime songs such as "The Old Mill Stream," "Good Old Summer-time" and others.

The program at Ford River is the first of two "pioneer day" events planned by the Historical Society in the county this summer. The second outing will be held Sunday, August 7, at old Point Peninsula lighthouse on the Stomington Peninsula. Last year a similar program was held at Sack Bay on the Garden Peninsula.

One of the features of the "pioneer day" program is the roll call of families listed among the early settlers. As the name of the pioneer is called his descendants among those attending the program stand to be introduced.

Following the program older residents of the community join in relating incidents and anecdotes of the early days. The Historical Society plans one or two "pioneer day" programs each summer in Delta county communities.

Ford River Will Hold Election On Highway Proposal

Ford River, Mich.—About thirty-five Ford River citizens attended the meeting of the township board Wednesday night and voted unanimously to hold an election in the near future to finance road improvements.

An election will be held within several weeks to vote on a proposal to levy a three mill tax, or $3 per $1,000 of assessed property valuation. If the voters approve, the tax will be spread on the roll for December collection.

Ford River township's assessed valuation is about $815,000, and thus a three mill tax would raise almost $2,500 for making annual improvements to the old so-called McNitt roads.

Rose Of Sharon, Celeste II Are 1st Leg Winners

Two Escanaba yachts, C. W. Stoll's schooner, Rose of Sharon, and William Nolden's sloop, Celeste II, a B class boat, won the first leg of the Escanaba Yacht club's annual cruising race from Escanaba to Ephraim.

Nine yachts were to sail the second leg from Fish Creek to Sturgeon Bay and they had prospects for good sailing before a moderate, 18-mile-an-hour northeast wind. Two additions to the fleet were M & M Yacht club yachts, Roger Williams entered his 22-square meter Rinette IV in the Universal class and L. E. Jones entered his schooner, Halcyon, in the cruising division.

Following the Rose of Sharon in the cruising division were Max Murphy's Tahuna of Green Bay, John Mitchell's new 40-foot yawl Lucky Star of Escanaba, Milt Nelson's Hi-C of Menominee, and George Burridge's Geoclare of Green Bay.

Following the Celeste II in the Universal class was the Marinette Marine corporation's sloop, Mariner sailed by Jimmy Boren. The Sturgeon Bay racing fleet, including several 22-square meter class sloops, were unable to get to the starting line because of north-east headwinds, but they were expected to enter the final leg of the race Thursday from Sturgeon Bay to Menominee.

The entire racing fleet will lay over tomorrow and then enter the M & M Yacht club's annual 100-mile sailing race, highlight event of the season's sailing, Saturday and Sunday.

LEGLESS LEADER DIES
Saginaw, (AP)—Funeral services for A. Robert Cox, legless organizer for the American Federation of the physically handicapped, were held here Wednesday. Cox, 33, was rendered helpless by an accident 15 years ago, and later had his legs amputated so he would not be bedridden. After several years of touring the country organizing local groups of handicapped persons, Cox died Sunday of a kidney infection.

Shorted Wires—The fire department was called to 221 North 18th street Wednesday when a kettle boiled over on the kitchen range and shorted electric wiring. Damage was slight.

Apply For License—Applications for marriage licenses have been made at the office of the county clerk by Gordon Lemerand of Escanaba and Ida Mickelson of Gladstone; Daniel W. Weissert and Marjory Seward of Escanaba.

At Conference—County Clerk J. Theodore Ohlen will return Saturday from Ironwood where he is attending a convention of the Association of County Clerks of Michigan.

Ship Here July 13—A U. S. naval reserve training ship from Hancock will arrive at the Escanaba municipal dock at 5 p. m. Wednesday, July 13, it was announced yesterday. Navy reservists in this area who would like to cruise as far as Menominee are invited to do so.

Power Craft Arrives—Arriving at Escanaba yacht basin yesterday were the Nandijac II, owned by E. P. Hamilton of Two Rivers, Wis., and the Emily Ann III, owned by R. L. Cowles of Green Bay. Both are cruisers. The Nandijac is 43 feet long and has a crew of three. The Emily Ann is 34 feet long, has a crew of four aboard.

Taft-Hartley Law Repeal Still On Truman's Program

Washington, July 7 (AP)—It's up to the Democratic leadership in congress to decide whether to continue the fight for repeal of the Taft-Hartley law at this session. Congress got that word today from President Truman, through his weekly news conference.

Mr. Truman said he is still interested in making the fight for repeal, and would like to see it continued. However, the Senate recently passed a substitute labor bill sponsored by Senator Taft (R-Ohio).

The area of Norway is 124,556 square miles.

VA Training Section Here Serves All U.P.

Although it no longer is functioning as a sub-regional office supervising Veterans Administration activities throughout the Upper Peninsula, the Escanaba VA office continues to serve Delta, Menominee, Schoolcraft, Iron, Chippewa, Mackinac, Luce and Alger counties in its training section, Henry A. Mosher, former manager of the U. P. VA office on detailed duty here, said yesterday.

Mosher's statement served to clarify the status of the local office. The Escanaba office will continue to serve its area but will not have jurisdiction over offices at Marquette, Ironwood, Houghton and Sault Ste. Marie as before.

The legal, dental and medical sections of the Escanaba office will continue to serve the entire U. P. Training reports from the Ironwood, Houghton and Marquette offices will continue to be consolidated here and those areas will continue to be served by periodic supervisory visits by James V. Schram, chief of the vocational, rehabilitation and education section of the Escanaba office.

So serves the eastern part of the Upper Peninsula, Ironwood and Houghton the western and northern, Marquette the central and Escanaba the south central portion. In training, however, the Escanaba office serves Iron, Schoolcraft, Delta, Menominee, Chippewa, Mackinac, Luce and Alger directly under Mr. Schram.

Bad Weather Fatal To 20 In Portugal

Lisbon, Portugal, July 7 (AP)—Twenty persons lost their lives and scores of others received injuries in a series of heat waves and violent thunder storms which have swept over Portugal in the past week. The erratic weather is continuing.

A temperature of 146 in the sun was recorded at Coimbra—the highest reading in the nation. Crops in all parts of the country have been damaged by cyclonic winds, rain, hail, floods and heat. Thirteen persons have been killed by lightning, six have drowned and one has died of sunstroke. Many have been overcome by the heat.

Woman in Shorts Stirs Up Tavern Fight in Petoskey

Petoskey, Mich., July 7 (AP)—One woman's attempt to beat the heat by wearing shorts led to serious complications yesterday.

Her husband was jailed on a charge of assaulting a man who made remarks about her appearance.

The trouble started when Aubrey Lee Johnson, 49, of Island, Ky., and his wife entered a local tavern. Mrs. Johnson was wearing shorts.

Officers said Johnson pulled a knife and wounded Louis Price, Jr., of Petoskey, when the latter commented on the shorts.

Chicago Boy Admits Hanging 3-Year-Old In Cellar Of Home

Chicago, July 7 (AP)—Police reported a 13-year-old boy first admitted, then denied today he hanged a neighbor child to a raft in the basement of his home.

Detective Chief Timothy O'Connor said Charles Munday told him he hanged three-year-old Thomas "Whitey" Laux last night with a clothesline slung over a beam. The boy said he cut the body down later and strangled the child with his fingers, O'Connor related.

After a rest of five minutes in the question, O'Connor reported, Charles denied having anything to do with the killing.

"I didn't do it," the boy was quoted by the chief. "I was just nervous when I said I did."

The Laux and Munday families share a two flat frame house on the South Side. Charles' mother, Edith, discovered Thomas' body stuffed in a sack in the basement this morning, ending an all-night search for the missing boy through South Side neighborhoods.

ALLEGAN TRIES METERS

Escanaba Eagles Picnic July 31

The annual Escanaba Eagles picnic will be held at Pioneer Trail park Sunday, July 31, beginning at noon.

There will be lunch and refreshments and games for both children and adults.

Persons may bring their own lunch for noon and for the evening or they may procure them from the Eagles organization at the park.

At a recent meeting of the group, it was determined to again to have a stand at the fairgrounds during the U. P. State Fair.

Committees for the picnic will be announced later.

Case of Hungarian Cardinal Retried In High Appeals Court

Budapest, Hungary, July 7 (AP)—Hungary's highest appeals court commenced the retrial last night of Josef Cardinal Mindszenty and his codefendants.

Authorities apparently were not too keen on publicizing the trial. The press was not informed of it and Hungarian papers made no mention of it.

Under Hungarian law the defendants themselves do not attend a retrial. Only the transcript of previous testimony is studied by the court which listens to the prosecutor and defense counsel. The prosecutor has contended that the sentences passed by the original court were too light. The defense has asked that they be made lighter.

At the original trial last February Cardinal Mindszenty was sentenced to life imprisonment on charges of treason and black market dealings.

The verdicts of the appeals court will be announced Saturday.

Fourth Round Wage Demands Draw Flat 'No'

the cost of such insurance shall be divided equally between the companies and the participating employees."

Bad Time For Raise

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, said in New York that "with business now receding in almost every industry across the land, nothing could be more damaging to the economy of the nation than generally to increase labor costs at this time."

He added that "the granting now of a further wage increase by U. S. Steel undoubtedly would encourage a general fourth round of wage increases throughout American industry."

Higher wages, he said, would result in higher commodity prices, which would end in "increased consumer resistance, decreased production and greater unemployment."

The present wage for steelworkers is $1.69 an hour. A two-month strike in 1946 resulted in an 18½ cent wage boost. The following year the union gained 15 cents more an hour and last year another 13 cents.

Murray charged the steel corporation with "negating" collective bargaining and with ignoring its contractual and legal obligations to bargain collectively on pensions. Murray said the conciliation and arbitration board referred to by U. S. Steel is no longer in existence. He said its chairman was discharged by the corporation "some two months ago."

Murray charged the company's offer on social insurance "amounts to 2 1/5 cents per hour, the most niggardly offer that was presented to collective bargaining conferences by any corporation in either recent or current meetings."

The union leader said John A.

Russell L. Clark Dies Of A Stroke, Rites Saturday

North 18th street, died at 11:20 last night of a stroke he suffered a day ago.

He was born in Calumet June 20, 1897, and had lived in Escanaba since 1915. He was a veteran of World War I.

Surviving are his wife, Catherine, three half brothers, Raleigh, Clifford and Floyd Gaffney of Escanaba, and two half sisters, Mrs. Fred Norton of Rockford, Ill., and Mrs. Mark French of Hardwood.

The body was taken to the Alto funeral home and will be in state there Friday evening. Military rites will be held at the funeral home Saturday at 2 p. m. with burial in Lakeview cemetery.

Slovakia Complains Of Red Censorship; Even Mail Opened

Prague, Czechoslovakia, July 7 (AP)—Reports from strife-torn Slovakia say Red censorship has been clamped so tightly over that strongly Catholic area that Communists themselves complain their mail is being read and their telephones tapped.

Newsmen who visited Bratislava, Slovakian capital, for the weekend religious holidays, said the atmosphere is more tense since last week's church-state troubles. At that time the controlled press reported rioting between Red police and Catholics trying to defend their priests from arrest.

The situation is now believed to be quiet, on the surface, but authorities are increasingly watchful.

The newsmen said Catholic churches were packed for the weekend services and church collections, which the Communists tried to stop in some sections, were still being taken up.

Swim Classes Begin Tomorrow At Twin Spring Park Beach

Swimming classes at Twin Springs park for children of Ensign and Bay de Noc townships will begin tomorrow afternoon.

Ensign township children will be picked up by school buses and taken to the park swimming beach in time for a 1:30 class tomorrow afternoon. Buses will transport children from Bay de Noc township in time for a 3 o'clock class.

The classes are sponsored by the Delta county chapter of the American Red Cross.

Tax Boost Is Not Solution To Recession

PRESIDENT TRUMAN reportedly is working on a special message to congress dealing with the nation's economic problems. The message is expected to carry the president's recommendations for meeting the problem of declining prices and mounting unemployment.

Particular interest will be directed toward the president's recommendations regarding taxes. Mr. Truman has long been an advocate of high federal taxes and since the government ended its 1948-49 fiscal year $1,800,000,000 in the red, it would not be surprising if the president once again proposed a boost in the tax schedules.

The situation cannot be corrected by tax increases, however, most sound economists agree. The answer lies in sharp government economies. Mr. Truman could make a better program for the nation's economic ills by abandoning administration efforts for such costly ventures as compulsory health insurance and federal aid to education.

Only last week congress adopted a public housing program that is destined to cost the taxpayers $308,000,000 a year for the next 40 years. The program will benefit only a comparatively few of the nation's families and then only those living in large cities. The program will not provide a single home in such cities as Escanaba.

The national is drifting towards more and more federal financial problems simply because too many people still think that Uncle Sam has a bottomless purse. We are continually turning to Washington to solve financial problems that should be solved at home—and could be solved at the local level with more efficiency and far less cost.

Atlantic Pact Approval Assured

SPEEDY approval by the United States senate of the North Atlantic treaty seems assured. No organized opposition to the treaty has developed in the discussions held thus far and it appears certain that more than the necessary two-thirds vote of approval will result.

Senator Vandenberg, who has been the leading Republican proponent of the bipartisan foreign policy, minced no words in his plea to the senate for approval of the treaty yesterday. He called the treaty a shield for free men against greedy Communism. Further he warned that Communism is the sole threat to world peace and that its final target is the United States.

The North Atlantic treaty binds together the democratic nations of western Europe with the United States and Canada in a military alliance of mutual defense. Signatories agree on a common defense against an aggressor attacking any one of the nations involved in the treaty.

There never has been any doubt that the purpose of the treaty is to provide a united front against Communism. Red influences have already overrun eastern Europe and further encroachment is inevitable unless the countries in jeopardy are willing to stand together.

The treaty is not contrary to the charter of the United Nations, but the necessity for the pact concedes that the United Nations has not developed to the point where it serves as a complete guarantee of world peace. The United Nations has not reached the expectations of its founders simply because Soviet Russia, exercising the authority of the veto, has nullified the effectiveness of the UN.

The developments in Europe in recent months, showing a rising tide of opposition to Communism, are indicative of the success of the American bi-partisan foreign policy. A stiffer backbone to Red encroachment is obvious.

State Court Bars Drunkometer Tests

THE state supreme court has ruled out drunkometer tests as admissible evidence in Michigan courts. The decision of the high court places a greater burden upon the prosecution in cases involving the alleged intoxication of the defendant but it serves to protect individual rights.

The court ruled that drunkometer tests are invalid because it has not been proved that the tests are a reliable indication of intoxication. The court pointed out that there is no general acceptance by the medical profession or general scientific recognition of the drunkometer tests as accurately establishing the alcoholic content of the subjects blood or the extent of his intoxication.

There is another fundamental issue involved to which the court made no reference in its decision. That is the right of a defendant to choose not to testify against himself. The presumption is that drunkometer tests are taken with the permission of the subject, but such is not always the case.

It has been contended that a person who has more than .15 per cent of alcohol by weight in his blood is drunk, but that theory is rejected by the supreme court on the grounds that scientific evidence of the fact of this theory is lacking.

The Promised Land Of Brazil

THE Amazon river of Brazil is more than 2,000 miles long, and so wide at its mouth that one cannot see across it. The volume of water pouring into the ocean is so great that the latter is fresh and drinkable 50 to 75 miles from land.

This is the great east-and-west highway of Brazil, a country which is inviting settlers from the ends of the earth. There is absolutely no color line, and the white, black and red faces mingle in descendants who are described as being healthy, rugged and handsome as any people in the world.

Brazil, described as potentially one of the richest lands on earth, needs nothing so much as a north-and-south artery through the center of the country. Work on such an artery or arteries will begin soon in seven states, where there are said to be 800,000 square miles of virtually unusual fertile and well watered land. This tremendous area, approximately 50 times the size of the Upper Peninsula, is immune to frosts, drought and floods, and experts say that it is made to order for agricultural abundance.

Brazil, a country somewhat larger than the United States, is surely on its way to greatness, according to Americans who have gotten around only a part of its vastness and variety. Its wealth of minerals and forests hasn't been touched. Ocean steamships habitually ply 1,000 miles or more up the Amazon. The country is truly a promised land, in large part uninhabited and waiting for those to move in who will develop its mammoth resources.

ROBINSON OR ROBESON?

(Grand Rapids Press)

Jackie Robinson, the Brooklyn Dodgers' great Negro infielder, is by far the people's choice to play second base for the National league in the all-star game. And it wasn't only Brooklyn's rapid fans that clinched Jackie's claim to that honor by a tremendous margin; he was the front-runner also in such states as Texas, Alabama and Mississippi.

No sensible person would dispute Robinson's right to hold down the all-star second sack. He's leading his league in batting with an average of .365, in runs batted in, total hits and stolen bases.

But Jackie isn't the only Negro to find favor among baseball fans the country over; his teammate, Roy Campanella, is second among National league catchers in the all-star poll and Larry Doby, Cleveland outfielder, is high among American league candidates.

We have a feeling that these men are doing more to win sympathetic consideration for the problems of their race than is Paul Robeson, who himself was once a great athlete and still is a fine singer. While Robinson, Campanella, Doby and others are breaking down racial barriers and prejudices by making the most of their natural talents Robeson is using his to throw up new barriers and create new animosities. He currently is most interested in altering the words of "Old Man River" along the lines prescribed by Communist propagandists. The one encouraging aspect about the spectacle Robeson has been making of himself is that his followers are vastly outnumbered by Robinson's.

A WHISPER ISN'T LOUD ENOUGH

(Grand Rapids Press)

Currently congress is debating what should be done with the Voice of America—the state department's international broadcasting section. It has been freely charged that the radio programs beamed to peoples behind the "iron curtain" have been silly or ineffective. As a result some members of congress appear willing to call the whole thing off. Still others propose abandoning it as an economy measure.

The arguments for retaining the Europe-destined broadcasts, and for amplifying them, are much stronger than the one for saving money. Distasteful though the idea of tooting our own horn may be to many, it is a practical necessity in this case. But for the "voice" broadcasts, no truthful information about the United States and its aims would be getting through to the people in Soviet-controlled zones. If we pull out now Communist propagandists will have the field to themselves—and to the persons who have been getting the news about America direct from this country it will appear that we have admitted defeat.

Congress' chief concern in this instance should be to strengthen our still tenuous lines of communication with the forces of democracy in the Soviet realm. The money appropriated should be considered as an investment that, we hope, one day will pay off by helping to bring to truth-blockaded free access to world information.

Take My Word For It . . .

Frank Colby

HOW TO COIN NEW WORDS

Many readers write to me asking "Where do the new words come from, and how do you go about inventing them?"

Anyone can coin a new word. But if the word is not correctly formed, the authorities will not recognize it and it will seldom be listed by the dictionaries.

To illustrate what I mean by "correctly formed," let us create a new word to meet the requirements of the authorities. N. P. A. of Rialto, Calif., writes: "I want a word describing a person who has a passion for using very long words in speech and writing. Can you help me?"

If there is such a word, it has escaped me. So let's coin one by the classic method of using the so-called Greek and Latin combining forms. (Combining forms are prefixes and suffixes based on Greek and Latin stems.) Let's take the combining form megal-, meaning "large," verbo-, meaning "word," and mania-, "one having a passion or infatuation for." Thus we have megal-

Truman Has Eye On 1952 Contest

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington. — Like most other Americans, President Truman has been thinking hopefully about vacation plans. So long as congress is in session, any plan must remain a tentative and wishful hope.

But in the White House there has been discussion of a possible trip that would take the president to both Hawaii and Alaska. If congress should adjourn by the middle of August or earlier, the president might then go through with that plan.

Since he would travel in his own plane, the Independence, the trip to Honolulu would be a matter of hours rather than days. After a relatively brief stay in Hawaii, the president and his party would fly to Alaska and from there back to Washington by way of the Pacific Northwest with a possible stopover of a day or two in California.

STATEHOOD ISSUE

The trip, if it is made and there are many "ifs," would not have altogether the look of a vacation. The issue of statehood for both the territories will be one of continued urgency and the president would have a legitimate interest in making a firsthand inspection. Gov. Ernest Gruening has long urged Mr. Truman to visit Alaska.

This last is an important consideration in every move the president makes. Anyone who expected Mr. Truman after his surprise victory of last November to coast gently through his first full term toward retirement from public life has by now had a chance to correct that impression.

Here at the halfway mark of the first year of the new term is a man acutely conscious of his stand on the major issues of the day as that stand relates to his own future. One of the most astute and sensitive observers in the administration who had considerable to do with the campaign last fall puts it this way:

"I've never heard him say a single thing about it. But if I had to make a guess today, I would say that he would run again in 1952. He is handling every issue in such a way that his position will be clear and unmistakable in a future campaign."

That view is confirmed by others close to the president, all of whom agree that they have had not the faintest hint from their man as to any future intentions. When Interstate Commerce Commissioner J. Monroe Johnson, an ardent Truman admirer, made a quip about another term in the president's presence at Little Rock, Arkansas, recently, Mr. Truman did not spurn the suggestion.

GOOD POLITICAL JUDGMENT

One consequence of the Nov. 2 victory was to confirm in the men around Truman the conviction of the president's superior political judgment. They see him now as exercising that judgment with a long view of his own and his party's future, countering the grave handicap of the opposition from Southern Democrats.

The Nov. 2 triumph strengthened the president's deep feeling of loyalty to those who stayed loyal to him. The men around him believe this is often in his mind and it explains certain of his moves that otherwise seem inexplicable.

The president will not soon forget those days of late September and October when the Republicans were flush with money and overconfidence, aided and abetted by virtually all the press and radio. He will not forget the afternoon in early September when he personally made an almost appeal to a group of prosperous Democrats who had been dragged by Democratic Chairman Howard McGrath into coming to the White House. That appeal was received with something less than enthusiasm and the committee continued to live from hand to mouth.

This feeling is behind the break with Bernard M. Baruch which was aired last week. Baruch last fall tersely rejected a suggestion from Mr. Truman that he take part in helping to raise party funds.

Even though it would do him no good politically, if the president visits Hawaii, he also will visit Cocoanut Island, the private island in the Hawaiian group belonging to Edwin W. Pauley, the oil man, and some of his associates. To several friends Pauley has hinted that the president hoped to visit him on Cocoanut Island.

In 1952 the president will be 68 years old. But in terms of the inheritance of longevity which he appears to have from at least one side of the family, that is not old. His mother was 94 years old at the time of her death in 1947 and hale and alert up to her last illness.

verbo- and mania-, pronounced: MEG-uh-luh-VERB-buh-MAY'nee-ak.

We may also use the suffix phile, "one who loves or has a fondness for." Pronounced exactly the same word file. The word then becomes: megaloverbophile, pronounced: MEG-uh-luh-VER'buh-fil.

Christopher Morley, in the preface to his book, "The Complete Sherlock Holmes," uses a word of his own coinage in speaking of Holmes as an "infracraninophile"—"a champion of the underdog." He uses these combining forms: infra—"under," canino—"dog," -phile, "having a fondness for." Infracraninophile is pronounced: IN-fruh-kuh-NY'nuh-fil.

Now that's the way new words—legitimate words—come into being. I have prepared a list of hundreds of proper combining forms by means of which you may analyze thousands of words, and, if you wish, coin new words of your own. For a free copy, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me, in care of this paper.

As I explained in a previous article, there are many commercial words and trade names that are coinages, such as kodak, nylon, Frigidaire. Some are pure inventions; others, like Frigidaire, are more or less legitimate coinages. Many such words enter the language and are eventually recognized as proper words. That's the way the language grows.

Might as Well Throw Away the Razor, Now

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

THE VISITOR—Jackie Kasbohm, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kasbohm of Perronville, came puffing into the house a few days ago so out of breath he could scarcely speak.

When he got his wind he told his mother of the big black bear that came up to him just after he had thrown his line into the creek and started fishing.

Without waiting to see whether the bear was friend or enemy, Jackie dropped the pole and line, raced up to the road, jumped on his bicycle and set out for home. The road was full of puddles after a rain but that made no difference to Jackie.

After telling his mother about the bear, Jackie related the story of his ride in this way: "I tell you I got on my bike the fastest I ever did and I rode it the best I ever rode and I struck out down the road so fast I couldn't see the water fly!"

NO BIKE—Jackie was most fortunate in his ability to speedily depart from the bear at the creek. More fortunate than Louie Tuylis of Cornell, who had to make his escape on shanks mare.

Louie was cutting timber on his farm recently when he came face to face with a big black bear. The bear stood up and watched Louie. "Get out!" Louie shouted in surprise, and adding to his surprise was the fact that the bear started to get out.

Then, changing its mind, the bear turned and came back toward Louie, its mouth open and ready for a fight. Quickly deciding that it would be nice to be some place else, Louie set out for home. It was not until he was out of the woods into the clearing that the bear gave up the chase.

Now every day that Louie goes to work in the woods he carries a gun with him.

CHICKEN KILLER—Not to be outdone in these stories of encounters with wild animals, Mrs. Hazel Tiernert of Masonville is telling her friends about her adventure with a blood-thirsty killer.

Something was taking the Tiernert chickens, but just what it was Mrs. Tiernert did not know. Then last Thursday morning when she started out to feed the birds, she heard them making a loud commotion and saw a furry animal in the chicken yard. She tried to chase it out with a small stick and she even threw the feed basin at it. Instead of running away the animal turned on her. The rooster of the flock also took up the battle and attacked the animal that Mrs. Tiernert now recognized as a mink. Despite her efforts and that of the ruffled rooster the mink grabbed and killed a hen and made off with it.

There isn't much to add to this story, except that a considerable number of mink and weasel have been seen in the Masonville-Rapid River area this summer—especially around chicken pens.

NOT WILDLIFE—Friends of Mel Nyquist, Delta county 4-H Club agent, are sympathizing with him because of an injury he suffered a week or so ago while at Wells Park camp with 4-H members of Delta and Menominee counties.

A husky 190-pound World War

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—The Escanaba Boy Scout band under the direction of H. A. Erickson returned home after entertaining thousands of tourists and residents of Mackinac Island over the Fourth of July.

Escanaba—Mrs. Elizabeth Fortier of San Bernadino, Calif., is spending the summer months at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ellen Gasman, and with other relatives in Escanaba and Park River.

Gladstone—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Louis and daughter, Eileen, have returned from lower Michigan where they spent the past ten days visiting.

Manistique—Mrs. Victor Bergstedt will arrive this morning from St. Paul to visit at the Albert Ackerman home and Andrew Ekstrom home. Mrs. Bergstedt is a sister of Mrs. Ackerman.

Garden—Miss Doris Thompson of East Lansing is spending a month at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Olmsted.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—Rev. Harold C. McDonald, who for the last four years has been pastor of the First Baptist church, will leave early next week for Dearborn, Mich., where he has accepted a call to the Dearborn Baptist church.

Gladstone—Marion Alice Hite became the bride of Francis Londo at 6 o'clock Saturday morning in Detroit, Fr. Diana officiating.

Rock—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jokela and daughters have returned to their home here after spending two weeks visiting with relatives and friends in Chicago, Flint and Detroit.

If veteran, Mel is having a hard time explaining that he pulled a muscle in his leg—while calling the figures of a square dance for the boys and girls!

But that's the way it was, Mel says. He was standing there calling the dance and turned ever so slightly, when a muscle in his leg decided that it needed a rest and folded up or over or whatever a muscle does in such instances. Now Mel is hobbling around explaining just how it happened. He should tell folks that he tried to run a foot race with the 4-H boys, or jump over a fence. They wouldn't look so surprised.

THE CALLER—Following the big storm of last Sunday evening some people who were at their cottage on the bay shore heard a noise at the door. They opened it and discovered a half-grown raccoon standing there, its bright black-banded eyes shining in the light. It refused an invitation to come inside and even turned up its nose at food. The concern of the cottagers changed to admiration for the little fellow, who only came to pay them a visit—not for a handout.

TRAFFIC TOLL—Not generally reported as news is the traffic toll of wildlife that occurs on Northern Michigan highways, especially during the heavy traffic such as that of last weekend.

On a Fourth of July weekend trip one traveler and his family observed evidence of many tragedies—the bodies of rabbits, birds, squirrels, woodchucks, porcupines, and even a couple deer.

Many motorists, it was observed, make little or no effort to avoid colliding with wild creatures crossing the highway. Others steer their car toward the smaller animals in an attempt to run them down.

For Corporation Tax

Dear Editor:

I believe that Governor Williams' corporation tax is a must if we are to preserve the free enterprise system. With the threat of depression growing more ominous, it is imperative that the corporations start paying a proportionate share of the government expenses.

Our representatives in government have provided our corporations with shock absorbers in the way of excessive amortization of new plants, tax reduction for the future, and tax refunds from the past if future profits fall below certain level and other cushions.

With the aid of these cushions the profits of corporations are tremendous. The inability of the corporations to invest these profits in profitable enterprise created a depression. It leaves no other alternative but to tax these corporate profits and to use the money on public projects to augment the buying power of the people to the extent that a depression could be averted.

Moderate tax reforms are preferable to "isms."

Too Much Distraction

Dear Editor:

On the whole I enjoyed the program at Ludington Park on July 4 very much. Several friends from another city were visiting us and they mentioned what a beautiful city park we have here.

However, I would like to say that the aerial stunting, enjoyable as it was, would have been better received if the air stunts could have been postponed until after the presentation of the queen contestants. It seemed to me that the competition of another event being held at the same time was unfair to the girls. The noise of the plane drowned out the speakers on the platform.

I mention this only in the hope that this may be avoided in the future.

A Suggestion

Dear Editor:

As a suggestion in the event of another heat wave such as we had recently, I'd like to tell of the success I had last Sunday in cooling my house by soaking it thoroughly with water from the hose. It really made a big difference in inside temperature. I pass this along to others who may be oppressed by heat if the temperature bounds upward again this summer.

A Reader.

So They Say

This able and devoted public servant (former Defense Secretary James Forrestal) was as truly a casualty of the war as if he had died on the firing line.—President Truman.

We feel that if any attack comes it will come through the air. None of us feels that air power could win a war alone. We must be a team of air, land and water forces.—Air Secretary W. Stuart Symington.

The AEC (Atomic Energy Commission) is now staggering under daily disclosures of evidence of incredible mismanagement, and the joint congressional committee is about to begin a series of public hearings which could turn into a carnival of confusion.—Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper (R) of Iowa.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Latest gadget the American Medical association lobby is using in the pressure campaign against federal health insurance is a post card, distributed from doctors' offices, which threatens vote retaliations against members of congress who support the health program.

The card reads: "As for myself and family, which consists of — votes, we are unalterably opposed to compulsory health insurance or any other legislation which tends to regiment our population and socialize our government."

The sender fills in the blank with the number of votes in his family. Senator Claude Pepper of Florida, a leading sponsor of health insurance, reports he has received hundreds of the stereotyped cards. Some have also been mailed to President Truman.

One sender, whose wife recently underwent an operation, wrote Pepper that he was "compelled" by the doctor performing the operation to fill out and sign the card. Another reported that he feared he would "antagonize my doctor and nurse" if he didn't comply with their wishes.

Both these individuals informed Senator Pepper that they strongly supported the health-insurance program. Similar cards also are being distributed by Florida insurance salesmen.

OLD SOLDIERS

Five hundred forgotten soldiers, who survived past wars but are victims of old age, are waiting to get into the National Soldiers' Home at Washington, D. C.

But there's no room.

Those on the inside would like to make room by building new quarters. They have plenty of money—$33,000,000, every cent contributed through the years by enlisted men. But the money is held in trust by the treasury department, and the ex-soldiers can't get it out without an act of Congress.

Though this money belongs to the soldiers and not the taxpayers, the budget bureau has turned down a request to release $16,700,000 to expand the soldiers' home. The bureau's recommendation has influenced congress to refuse use of the funds—despite the fact that the soldiers' home has not been expanded since 1911.

Meanwhile, the waiting list of aged, lonely ex-soldiers is growing longer.

THREAT TO BERLIN AIRLIFT

The public was never told how the Bendix strike at South Bend, Ind., involving more than 6,000 workers, came closer to grounding the Berlin airlift than the Russians ever did. That was the reason the air force urgently summoned both sides to the Pentagon last week to settle the strike at a dramatic, all-night session.

Here, for the first time, is the inside story:

After negotiations broke down at South Bend, Secretary of the Air Force Stuart Symington personally invited Bendix-boss Malcolm Ferguson to Washington. Simultaneously he sent an air force plane to Detroit to pick up Walter Reuther, chief of the United Auto Workers.

The two men were brought in to see Symington separately. The secretary of the air force warned both that plane production would be crippled, the Berlin lift forced down by lack of key parts—if the strike continued.

It was Reuther who suggested they sit down on the spot and settle the strike.

"With all this talent from both labor and management," he declared, "if we can't settle this strike, then it just plain can't be settled. And I'm willing to sweat it out."

Ferguson was brought in, and the two men met face to face.

"I am convinced that by using the democratic processes," Reuther offered, "we can settle this strike, and by doing it in that way, we will enable the air force to continue to defend the democratic processes we are using."

Ferguson promptly agreed.

Assistant Secretary of Labor John Gibson also was called in, offered to serve as arbitrator.

For several hours the two sides haggled behind closed doors, took time out only for quick snacks. Symington kept a Pentagon kitchen open all night to accommodate them.

By 3 a. m. the negotiators were still deadlocked. Finally Reuther blurted out: "The thing that bewilders me is how a situation that has dragged out ten weeks and should have been settled at the outset, yet has been handled with good faith and good will and intelligence, could have gotten so 'snarled' up as it is tonight."

Reuther used one word that can't be repeated here which caused the tense, solemn group to burst out in laughter. This broke the ice and started the negotiators on the road to settlement. By 11 a. m., almost 24 hours after they started negotiating, an agreement was reached, ending one of the most critical strikes since V-J day—another triumph for the democratic processes.

NEW FACTORY MAKES 'SHIMS'

Ripley Plant's Product Goes To C&NW

Houghton, Mich.—Within a month the Borth light woods products plant in Ripley will be in operation, according to Royal Borth, manager of the firm. Located on the lake front, the plant is using property formerly occupied by the Houghton Lumber Co., but now in control of Johnson and Sons.

The factory, owned jointly by Henry Borth, a lumber broker, and his son, Royal, is using the revitalized one-time planing mill of the Pryor firm. The building has been revamped and now is a sturdy structure. The Borth partnership will set up Ripley's first small factory since the days when hockey sticks were made in the shadow of the "Umbrella tree."

The plant will specialize in the manufacture of railway shims. The greater part of the output will go to the Chicago and Northwestern railway at its Watersmeet or Ishpeming terminals. The company has a connection with this big midwestern rail system. The shims will be used to aid in elevating rails on cross ties to desired levels.

Later, a diversity of products will be manufactured. Among these will be yardsticks. Increases in variety, however, will depend on the availability of suitable machinery, raw wood forms, and the market in general.

Presently, the most important types of machines in the factory are the shim cutter, an automatic boring machine, a band saw, conveying mechanisms and a variety of auxiliary machines, dollies, skids and trucks.

All wood used by the firm will be of the "rejected" type. It will be material, definitely good in itself, but unadaptable, because of size, for ordinary lumber or dimension purposes. Companies which are expected to supply the Ripley plant are the Vulcan Corporation of Donken, Chasell Box and Crate Co., and the Gibbs City Lumber Co., a local concern.

In the manufacture of the shims, the Borth firm will be using a structure which housed machines that planed millions of feet of Pryor lumber. Located immediately west of the old sawmill building, the available storage grounds are more than adequate. In the days when the mill was in operation, scores of lumber piles dotted the area. Incidentally, the same spur which Pryor used both to dump logs from the Misery bay district and to take out finished lumber is still on the property. The Borths intend to make use of the track.

Prior to taking up their residence in Houghton, Mr. Borth and his son resided in the Rhineland-Kempler district in northern Wisconsin.

CNW Will Erect Safety Signals

Marinette, Wis.—The Chicago and North Western railroad will install automatic flashing signals at three Marinette street crossings next month and a fourth in 1950 at a cost of $36,000, the Marinette city council was informed last night.

Ald. Edward Woleske told the council that the railroad had made plans for installation of automatic crossing signals at Hall avenue, Carney avenue and Mary street

More Recreation Planned For Guards At Camp Grayling

Spiritual, recreational and physical aspects of life will not be neglected at the 1949 encampment of the Michigan National Guard, scheduled for August 6 to 20 at Camp Grayling, it is announced by Maj. Gen. Ralph A. Loveland, commanding general.

Chaplains of all faiths will be on duty with units at the Guard's historic training reservation in Crawford County. Regular religious services will be a part of the camp program, highlighted by the traditional Memorial Services on August 14 in which all Guardsmen will gather to pay tribute to comrades who fell in service to state and nation.

A complete field hospital will be in operation at Camp Grayling, manned by officers and men of Detroit's 107th Medical Battalion. Sick call will be held daily in all units. Medical officers assigned to the Guard are practicing physicians in civilian life.

Organized athletics and other recreational activities will be available to every Guardsman during his off-duty hours. Softball, touch football, volleyball, swimming and other active sports will involve the participation of many. A full program of motion pictures and novelty theatrical events is scheduled for the special service amphitheater.

As at previous encampments, General Loveland has ordered that no beer or intoxicating beverages will be sold at any unit canteen. Off the reservation a Guardsman will have to produce his unit identification card to prove he's over 21.

SHORTS SHOCK WOMAN

Detroit, (P)—A woman wrote Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy complaining that a man who wore shorts in her neighborhood was shocking all women of "refinement and good taste." Toy declined to act on the complaint. Ruefully, he admitted he sometimes wore shorts himself.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS ACIDS

Help 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes Flush Out Poisonous Waste
When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging headache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

GARDEN

Baseball

The Fayette ball team played here Sunday and Monday afternoons. On the former day the visitors took the locals for a definite defeat by a 4-1 score but on the latter day the tables were turned and Garden won, 9-4, making several home runs to raise the pitch of the holiday excitement.

Legion Celebration

The Manistique band provided the rhythm for the parade which formed north of town and the ranks of ex-service personnel were swelled by 20 white clad sailors from the minesweeper which was prominent among the craft assembled at Fayette for services of Blessing, conducted by Bishop Noa and several assisting priests, in the afternoon. The number of floats was less than previous displays and competition among the cyclists and strollers with doll buggies was not as keen as usual, but the youngsters enjoyed the occasion fully. The Catholic ladies made public games available for those who could settle down long enough to concentrate and the Congregational ladies provided refreshments in the council room for out-of-town visitors who numbered many. A large number of local residents and visitors attended the service at Fayette where an outside altar was placed on the shore and at which the Blessing of the fishing boats was given followed by the Benediction. The game between the local and Fayette ball teams renewed the excitement of the morning and various amusements were provided by the Legion. The dance in the community hall in the evening was well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rivers of Detroit arrived here by plane Saturday night to spend the weekend with the former's grandmother, Mrs. Edward Guertin sr., and returned Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Schlinger of Detroit are spending several days with the latter's mother, Mrs. Edward Guertin sr. Two other daughters, Mrs. Frank Sefcik and Mrs. Adrian Hebert and their families of Nahma visited her Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson and children, Glen, Myrna and Milton of Manistique are spending from Tuesday until Saturday with Edward Jacques.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Winter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Longline and three daughters, Peter Carbon, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Farley and two sons were Manistique residents who visited relatives here Monday.

Ed Tebo of Green Bay is vacationing with his brother, Frank G. Tebo.

Albert, Harvey and Henry Mainville of McMillan visited here with their grandmother, Mrs. Chayer, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jedome Deloria and son Dennis of Escanaba were guests of Joseph Deloria, Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Charles Winter was dismissed from the St. Francis hospital Sunday following surgery ten days previous.

Miss Muriel Beaudre of Milwaukee spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Beaudre.

LEWIS HEADS SCHOOL BOARD

Follo Is Secretary And Hirn Treasurer

Charles E. Lewis, Escanaba attorney, was elected president of the Escanaba board of education for the ensuing year at the annual organization meeting of the board held last night in the Junior high school building. He succeeds Harold Crebo, who served as president for the past year.

Unanimous votes were cast for Lewis as president, for Crebo as vice-president, Charles L. Follo as secretary, and Dr. Fred Hirn as treasurer.

The meeting last night saw the seating of two new members elected in June. They are Trustees Mrs. Norman Lindquist and Charles L. Follo. Mrs. Lindquist is the first woman to serve as a member of the board of education since 1920.

Other business before the board included receiving annual reports from Trustee Lewis, former secretary.

A proposed amendment to the board of education by-laws will be considered by the members and is expected to come before them for action at the first regular meeting, scheduled for Tuesday, July 12. The principal change proposed is that an assistant secretary-treasurer be appointed who need not be a member of the board, and that no member of the board shall receive any compensation for his service as a member.

Continuing the interviewing of architects in connection with the proposed construction of a new Escanaba Senior high school building, the board heard Harold Starin of Duluth, and his brother, Arthur, of Basking Ridge, N. J., submit their qualifications as architects to design the building and supervise its construction. There is slight prospect that the project will be undertaken within the next couple years.

The state flower of Kansas is the sunflower.

COPPER RANGE HOISTS RAZED

Coal Dock Dismantled
At Houghton

Houghton, Mich. — Klatzky Bros., Inc., of Calumet, have received the contract to dismantle the Copper Range coal hoisting towers and incidental structures which have served the railway and mines back almost since the turn of the century. Already, the towers on the big firm structure are showing a skeleton form, all the wooden planking and siding having been removed.

The removal of the Copper Range coal dock from the waterfront in Houghton marks an occurrence that is taking place all over Great Lakes shorelines. As a matter of fact, Copper Range seems to have maintained its dock far longer than most firms which have fallen under the spell of self unloaders or clam mechanisms which do not require expensive wooden "runs" to place their fuel back from the wharf's edge. Few, if any docks on Lake Superior have retained the wooden "run" type docks. Especially is this true of the docks at Duluth and Superior as well as Chicago and Milwaukee on Lake Michigan.

Once one of the finest unloading destinations on the lakes, the Copper Range dock almost universally catered to the Hutchinson fleet. Such ships as the William Paine, Frank Billings, Martin Mullen and the Price McKinney were no strangers at the Houghton site.

New Hampshire is known as the "Granite State."

HANNA MINES WILL CURTAIL

Four-Day Week To Begin
On July 11

Iron River—Effective Monday, July 11, the M. A. Hanna mines will be operated on a four-day-a-week basis, S. E. Quayle, Michigan manager of the company, announced last night.

Quayle also said that Hanna's contract commitments for raw materials has been reduced. Approximately 700 men employed at Hanna mines—Homer, Wauseca, Bengal-Tully, Hiawatha Nos. 1 and 2—and the shops at the Rogers location are affected.

The Hanna and other companies operating in the district several weeks ago went on a five-day-a-week schedule due to general curtailment in the steel industry.

Harold J. Richards, general superintendent here for Pickands, Mather and company, said last night he had no information on any further curtailment in the P-M mines here. All mines now are working five days a week.

U.S. Army Makes It Easier For School Grads To Sign Up

The Army is making it easier for high school graduates to enlist, Sgt. Jack Scheer, in charge of the local Army and Air Force Recruiting Station, says.

New regulations just issued state that male applicants for enlistment into the Regular Army can produce documentary evidence of graduation from high school within the last two years may be enlisted without regard to mental qualifications presently prescribed. Physical standards are the same for high school graduates and non-high school graduates.

Army classification tests will still be administered to all applicants for enlistment. However, in the case of high school graduates, scores on these tests will be for record purposes only.

In an effort to maintain the personnel strength of the Army at the level authorized by Congress for the new fiscal year which began July 1, increased quotas have been assigned the recruiting service for the month of July. The Eastern Recruiting District, which includes the states of Michigan and Indiana, has been authorized to enlist a total of 1148 men into the Regular Army during July.

Customers' Corner

A good food store must be a clean store. We believe our customers are entitled to top quality food at low prices, served in clean, healthful surroundings.

That's why we train and instruct our employees to keep all trays and cases and refuse scrubbed and sanitary; to keep and off the sidewalks; and to keep floors and grocery racks clean and orderly.

Sometimes during rush periods it's hard to keep a store as neat as it should be. But that's our job, and you will be doing us a favor if you will let us know if your A&P store ever fails in any way to measure up to our high standards of cleanliness. Please write.

UNCLE JESSE IS CAGY OLD MAN

Quark About Convinced He's Old Outlaw

By ROBERT C. RUARK
Stanton, Mo.—The old man who says he is Jesse James speaks of his past, from boyhood on, with the firm surety and tremendous attention to detail of a man who is speaking of his own life, not somebody else's.

He is still a cagy old man. He will admit directly to no robbery or murder, but he can give you some magnificent first-hand details that would be pretty hard for a man 102 years old to parrot for the purpose of carrying off a hoax.

When Uncle Jesse — now I'm calling him Uncle Jesse too — speaks of the past, he sounds exactly like my grandpa used to sound when he was telling of his life in the Civil war.

Uncle Jesse told me one story of his beginnings as an outlaw that is not part of the general James legend. That was the incident which prompted him to run off to join Quantrill's raiders when he was 15. It is the only killing he will admit, because he does not construe it as murder.

Admits Shooting Yanks
He says that he and the boy Cole Younger rode over to Independence, Mo., at the start of the war, to file with the register of deeds some papers on a piece of property Jesse's mother had sold. He said Younger, who was his elder, went into the courthouse to file the papers, leaving Jesse sitting on his horse and holding Cole's.

Uncle Jesse says they accused him of stealing. In a fit of boyish panic he says he hauled out his gun and shot the captain, as the officer attempted to pull him from the horse. He also got one of the lieutenants. He and Cole Younger then took off, and Jesse joined the celebrated raiders.

His hatred of the danyanks is still immense, even in his old age. He says that when he tried to surrender, at the end of the Civil war, he was ambushed, and he still curses heartily at the mention of the name of Pinkerton. It is a matter of record that Allen Pinkerton's men came from Chicago to knock off the outlaw, and they hand-renamed the James house, blowing off Jesse's mother's hand.

I asked the old gent why he waited so long to unmask himself, and he said it was pretty simple. He just says that he was waiting for time to kill off anybody who might be able to implicate him in any of his illegal doings. Now, he says, he wants to correct history.

"I guess we was bad enough," the old boy says, "but we had some reason to be. We got a lot of credit for things we didn't do, and I guess we done a lot of things we didn't get blamed for. I will tell you just enough truth to convince you, but I ain't admitting a thing about murders."

Good Story Teller
As James, or Dalton, call him what you wish, speaks of his past life, he salts it with details that must either be true or else a magnificently learned and polished script. In describing how he got one wound, he does not say that he was riding along when somebody shot him.

"I was on a long legged roan mule," he will tell you. "Somehow

I hung on until I reached Dave Poole, my doctor." Or, when speaking of Kansas City, "I was there when they built the new depot on 26th street, he says, "that was when Tom Crittenden was mayor."

He challenges history on the death of Quantrill, the celebrated raider. He says he was around when Quantrill allegedly was killed. "When him and Bill Anderson (Bloody Bill Anderson, under whom James served) was shot, he hung a blanket sling between two horses and swum 'em across the Mississippi river. Quantrill later went to Texas and taught school under a different name."

James has told Lester Dill, owner of the vast Meramec caverns, of several secret entrances to the caves that Dill himself has verified. He has one verifiable story of a schoolhouse fire when he was a child that is not part of the general James legend.

Bit by bit, he has convinced all the people around him of authenticity, and I suppose that includes me. Tomorrow I can tell you what did actually happen if J. Frank Dalton of Texas is, as he says, the outlaw Jesse James.

GULLIVER
Going To Crete
Gulliver, Mich.—William Edward Kimmel, fireman apprentice, USN, son of Melville Kimmel of Route 1, Gulliver, is scheduled to arrive at the Island of Crete, July 16, as a crew member aboard the destroyer USS Dyess for a five-day visit.
In his peaceful "invasion" of the island, whose history is traced to 2000 B. C., he follows in the footsteps of Greek, Roman, Byzantine and Turkish invaders of old.
More recent history found Crete the scene of paratroop landings in the last war that made airborne invasion history. It was there that ex-heavyweight champion Max Schmeling was injured during a jump with Nazi paratroopers.

After a honeymoon at an undisclosed destination, the couple will live in Nahma.

Today's Recipes

Here is the answer to the request for the recipe for the salad served at the recent Royal Neighbors' convention in Escanaba:

Perfection Salad (6 Servings)
1 envelope gelatine
1/4 cup cold water
1 cup hot water
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup mild vinegar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup cabbage, finely shredded
1 cup celery, cut in small pieces
1 pint tomato, cut in small pieces
2 tablespoons green peppers.
Soften gelatine in cold water. Add sugar, salt and hot water and stir until dissolved. Add vinegar and lemon juice. Cool, and when mixture begins to stiffen, add remaining ingredients. Turn into mold that has been rinsed in cold water and chill. To serve, remove to bed of lettuce leaves or endive, and garnish with mayonnaise dressing.

Miss Gustafson
Bride, Wedding
In Dundee Church

White gladioli, asters and Shasta daisies, lighted by tall cathedral tapers formed the setting in Immanuel Lutheran church at Dundee, Illinois, Saturday afternoon, July 2, for the wedding of Marilyn Gustafson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reynold Gustafson, 1711 First avenue south, and Edwin J. Goers, son of Mrs. Emily Goers of Dundee, Illinois.

The double ring service was read at four o'clock by Rev. E. H. H. Gade. Naomi Gade, daughter of the officiating clergyman, sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Karl Roemer, organist, who played the traditional bridal processional and recessional.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father wore a white shark skin suit with a white woven straw cloche and white accessories. Her jewelry was a three-strand pearl necklace, the bridegroom's gift. She carried a white prayer book, attached to the cover of which was a white orchid with purple streamers. Her maid of honor, Miss Mary Lee Latham of Denver, Colorado, a classmate at Augustana Hospital School of Nursing, wore a light gray shark skin suit styled like the bride's with a white pique cloche and white accessories and she carried a deep purple orchid with purple streamers. Mrs. Gustafson wore an ice blue sheer with white accessories for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Goers, a green and white sheer print with white accessories. Pink rubrum lilies formed their corsages.

Richard Eggert of Dundee, a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man and ushers were Warren Gustafson, brother of the bride, and Otto Goers, brother of the bridegroom.

Dinner and Reception
A wedding dinner was served at the Red Lion near Elgin and a reception held at the home of the bridegroom's mother. The newlyweds following a honeymoon in Denver and other points of interest in the west will live in Dundee. The bride, a registered nurse, was graduated from Augustana Hospital School of Nursing in May of last year and has been employed by Dr. J. W. Perl, physician and surgeon in Chicago. Mr. Goers is with the Elgin Watch Company in Elgin, Ill.

Guests at the wedding included the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reynold Gustafson and her brother, Warren, of Escanaba; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Goers, of Detroit, brother-in-law and sister of the bride; Miss Shirley Fournier of Ford River; Miss Lona Clausen, R. N., of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. George Hermann of Palatine, Ill., and Dr. John Kuhn of Detroit.

NEW HOSPITAL TAKING FORM

Brick Work Will Start In About Two Weeks

The Schoolcraft Memorial hospital is really taking on form. Under the direction of Frank Rydquist, foreman for the local project, the foundation is being laid, giving for the first time a definite idea of the huge proportions on which the building is planned.

All of the exterior parts of the foundation are being made of concrete while the supporting walls on the interior of the structure are of cement blocks.

The building, which is being laid out on the southwest corner of the fair grounds will face Main street. The structure will be 234 feet in length. A 66-foot wing will extend from the rear center of the building. East of the wing the main structure will be 55 feet wide and west of that point 44 feet wide.

Foreman Rydquist states that the laying of brick for the superstructure should begin in about two weeks.

At present twenty-five men are employed on the project. All of them, including the foreman, are local men. This number, it is expected, will be increased when work on the superstructure is well underway. Most of the employees are ex-service men, although in some cases where men with certain skills are essential men without service background are employed.

The Prokesh Construction Company, of Iron Mountain, has the construction contract.

TO GO TO CAMPTo Go To Camp Grayling
In August

Air Transportability of infantry weapons, equipment and personnel will be one of the new training activities to be emphasized during the forthcoming field training encampment of the Michigan National Guard scheduled for August 6 to 20 at Camp Grayling, according to Capt. Edward J. Doyle, commanding officer of Co. D, 107th Engr. (C) Bn.

Representatives of the local unit will be participating in an air transportability training exercise under the supervision of a regular army demonstration team. More than 300 officers and men from various units of the 46th Infantry Division will participate in the demonstration.

The demonstration will be staged at the Grayling Air Base near Camp Grayling. The army will bring 18 C-82 and C-46 type aircraft and a demonstration team of 32 officers and 56 enlisted men. This will mark the first time that Michigan Guardsmen have participated in airborne operations.

Other special demonstrations to conducted during the encampment will cover armored tactics, anti-aircraft firing and weapons and demolition instruction.

Representing the local unit on the air demonstration will be 2nd Lt. Merrill Cornell, Sgt. 1st Henry Swanson and Sgt. Frederick A. Cota, who were former Air Corps personnel.

C.F. Passenheim
Claimed By Death

Manistique — Charles F. Passenheim, prominently identified with the building construction business in the Upper Peninsula for many years, died Wednesday evening at his home, 617 Oak street, following an illness of several weeks. He was 79 years old.

Born in Germany, Mr. Passenheim was a resident of Manistique since 1901. He was a carpenter and contractor and was in charge of construction of many saw mills and timber products mills in the Upper Peninsula.

Surviving are his widow, one son, Carlton of St. Louis, Mo.; two daughters, Mrs. Inez Olmstead of Jackson, Mich., and Mrs. Myrtle Wierenga of Manistique. Seven grandchildren also survive.

The funeral has been tentatively set for 2 p. m. Saturday in the Morton funeral home. Burial will be in Lakeview cemetery.

Brownie Day
Camp Postponed
Until August

The Day Camp for Brownie and Intermediate Girl Scouts planned to be operated at Trailer Park next week, has been postponed until August, Mrs. Earl LeBrasseur, Scout Commissioner, announced today. Postponement was necessary because of lack of adult leaders to assist with the camp, but many mothers indicated that it would be more convenient for them to help next month, so postponement was deemed advisable. Dates in August will be announced later.

Theft Of Radio
Leads To Sixty
Day Jail Term

Percy Olmstead was sentenced to spend the next sixty days in jail when he pleaded guilty before Judge W. G. Stephens in justice court Wednesday morning to a charge of larceny under fifty dollars.

The act alleged in the complaint consisted of the theft of a radio from Robert Stiles which was said to have been committed last March. The radio was presented to a girl with whom he is keeping company.

Mobile X-Ray
Unit Completes
Clinic In City

The mobile X-ray chest clinic, conducted by the Michigan Department of Health, completed a three and one-half day clinic in Manistique.

At the time of closing Wednesday afternoon about 325 people had visited the clinic according to the volunteer workers who have been in charge of registration.

This is regarded as low in local interest in this worthwhile and extremely important service. Heretofore more than this number registered each day.

Becomes Bride Of
John A. Fisher

Miss Priscilla Ann Nebel, and John Arthur Fisher, spoke their nuptial vows at a 3 o'clock ceremony on Sunday afternoon July 3 in the Memorial Methodist church, Rev. Glenn Kjelberg, pastor, united the young couple in marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Nebel, 310 Wisconsin avenue, City, and the groom is the son of George Fisher of Iron River, Wis.

White peonies were used in the church decorations. Mrs. Glenn Kjelberg sang "O Perfect Love" and as the couple knelt for the final blessing, "Love Divine."

The bride wore traditional white satin, styled with a basque effect, pointed leg-o-mutton sleeves and a rounded neckline of marquisette with an off-the-shoulder design of shirred satin. She carried a prayer book centered with two white orchids.

The maid of honor, Miss Clare Nebel, of Ann Arbor, Mich., sister of the bride, was gown in blue marquisette and lace, fashioned with a rounded neckline and pointed sleeves. She carried a mixed bouquet. The bridesmaids, Miss Loretta Timler of Van Nuys, Calif., and Miss Alice Fisher, sister of the groom, of Fairbairn, Minn., wore like gowns of orchid marquisette and lace similar to that of the maid of honor, and carried mixed bouquets.

Robert Fisher of Iron River, Wis., was his brother's best man and ushering were Howard Nebel and Thomas Nebel, cousin and brother of the bride, respectively.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Nebel was attired in a navy blue print with navy and white accessories complimented by a single orchid corsage.

A wedding dinner with covers laid for twenty five guests was served at the bride's parental home. White gladioli were used in the home decorations.

Following a wedding trip to Dana Lake, the young couple will make their home in Seattle, Wash.

The bride is a graduate of Gladstone High school, Cleary Business college, and the University of Michigan from which she graduated in June with a major in Journalism. The groom graduated from Iron River High school and the University of Michigan.

Out of town guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bert J. Noblet and family, Houghton, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nebel and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Nebel and family, August Mercer, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Wittlock, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ward, Munising, Mich., Miss Nan Nebel, Mrs. Mae Nebel and family and Miss Dorothy Johnson, Ypsilanti, Mich., George Fisher, Iron River, Wis., Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher and son, Drummond, Wis., Mrs. G. SOFTBALL

Tonight's schedule: Memorial field, 7:15—P&H Welders vs. K-C; 8:45—Nu-Way vs. Paper Mill. Royce—Power and Light vs. Northland. Hyde—Larmay vs. White Birch. (Merchants practice at 6:45 this evening Dock diamond).

Upsets—that is, defeats by lower-ranked teams—marked play in the Escanaba Softball association last night. Harnischfeger knocked off Power and Light, People's Bar tipped the strong Nu-Way nine, K-C shellacked Clairmont's and to top it off, Steve Vugrin, sensational fastball pitcher, hurled a one-hitter as Paper Mill defeated the Liberty Loans 9-2, in the Memorial field feature.

One of the largest crowds of the season was on hand to see Vugrin burn them in. On the way, he collected two hits himself to drive in two runs, and Phil Brazeau helped matters considerably by hitting a home run with two on to bolster a four-run spurge in the seventh.

Paper Mill 030 020 4-9 8 2
Loans 000 200 0-2 1 2
Steve Vugrin and Dale Larson; Gerald Els and Dale Wood.

In their rivalry, K-C and Clairmont's now have won one each. In winning last night, the Knights had to stave off a six-run Transfer blast in the bottom of the sixth. The K-C's came out of the sixth with only a 7-6 lead instead of a 7-0 margin but they piled up three more in the seventh to apply the clinchers.

"HI DADDY"—Susan, year-old daughter of Gus Zernial, disabled White Sox outfielder, seems very happy to see her daddy in Mercy Hospital in Chicago. Gus' wife, Gladys smiles too. Zernial was leading the American league in hitting when he broke his collarbone. He is expected to be released from the hospital soon.

'Just A Tough Break,' Says Chisox's Zernial

Chicago, July 7 (AP)—The big, blond guy wasn't mad at all as he walked shakily away from the hospital bed that possibly kept him from being the American League's rookie-of-the-year.

"It was a tough break, that's all," grinned Gus Zernial, the Chicago White Sox outfielder, leaving Mercy hospital yesterday.

Stranahan Does Well In British Open Golf

Sandwich, England, July 7 (AP)—Frank Stranahan, U. S. amateur golfer, moved into an early tie for the lead in the British Open today by posting a 73 alongside first round 71 for a 144 total after 36 holes. Two more 18-hole rounds will be played tomorrow.

Jimmy Adams, the rotund Scotsman who led after the first round with a 67, zoomed to a 77 today and shared the lead with the Toledo, Ohio, strongman.

Thirty-two players shot par or better yesterday in the first round over the 6,728-yard Royal St. Georges course.

Bobby Locke, the South African who is favored to win the title, had a 69 yesterday but could do no better than 76 today. That totalled 145.

Willie Hunter of Los Angeles, virtually shot himself out of the meet. The 57-year-old British-born professional needed 79 strokes on his second round after using 75 yesterday.

Art Lees, British Ryder Cup player, was the only one to break par among the early finishers. He had a 70, compared to 74 yesterday, and thus moved into a tie with Stranahan and Adams.

Ouch! Cubs Bow To Reds 23... To... 4

Cincinnati, July 7 (AP)—Catcher Walker Cooper drove in 10 runs, nine of them with three homers, yesterday as the Cincinnati Reds turned in the biggest score of the major league season, annihilating the Chicago Cubs, 23-4.

Tommy Holmes sank the Dodgers with his third homer in the last three days. It came in the eighth with Jim Russell on base.

Johnny Hopp was the hero of the Pirates' ninth inning rally against the Cards. His single with the bases loaded scored two runs for Pittsburgh's fifth straight victory.

Murry Dickson, the ex-Cardinal who was sold to the Pirates for $125,000, accounted for his third victory, two over St. Louis, by an eight-inning relief job. Dickson has lost 11.

Rain washed out Philadelphia-New York games in both the National and American. It was a tough blow for the A's who had a sellout crowd of 33,876 in the stands when the game was called after 1½ innings with Philadelphia leading the New York Yankees' Tommy Byrne, 1-0.

Both Cleveland and Detroit lost ground in the race by dropping night games but the distanced Boston Red Sox pulled up over the 500 mark by shutting out Washington, 5-0, in a game called in the sixth due to rain.

All Walker Cooper needed was a change of scenery—or was it a change of managers?

Big Coop, who popped off publicly about his trials with the New York Giants under Leo Durocher, sounded off with his big bat yesterday for his new boss — Bucky Walters — at Cincinnati.

Six straight base hits, including three three-run homers, added up to a big 10 runs batted in for the ex-Giant who went to Cincy for catcher Ray Mueller on June 14.

Since Coop left the big town he has been nothing short of sensational.

Here's the before and after story:

Games AB H HR RBI AVE.
Before . . . 43 147 31 4 21 .211
After . . . 18 72 24 6 19 .333

All this thumping doesn't make much difference at Cincy where the Reds have dipped into seventh place and are in danger of falling into the basement. In New York, a Cooper hitting at that pace could have made a contender out of the fifth-place Giants.

The big fellow who cost Horace Stoneham $175,000 in January of 1946 had the biggest day of his long career against the Chicago Cubs yesterday afternoon. It was also the biggest day for the Reds in many a day as they rolled up a 23-4 landslide for Ken Raffensberger's ninth victory.

Cooper had a chance to tie the Uncle Wilbert Robinson's all-time record of seven consecutive hits when he came up in the eighth inning. He grounded into a force play, breaking the string. The 10 RBI's were only two short of the record set by Sunny Jim Bottomley of the St. Louis Cardinals back in Sept. 16, 1924.

In the third, sixth and seventh innings, Cooper hammered home runs, each time with two men on base. Earlier in the season, Pat Mullin of Detroit and Andy Seminick of the Phils also hit three homers in one game.

The heavy firing in Cincy overshadowed the pennant race which almost—but not quite—resulted in a first place tie. Brooklyn's one game lead was cut in half when the Dodgers lost to the Boston Braves, 7-5, but the runnerup St. Louis Cards blew a 3-1 lead in the last of the ninth and bowed to Pittsburgh, 4-3. As a result the Brooks still lead by a full game.

Tommy Holmes sank the Dodgers with his third homer in the last three days. It came in the eighth with Jim Russell on base.

Johnny Hopp was the hero of the Pirates' ninth inning rally against the Cards. His single with the bases loaded scored two runs for Pittsburgh's fifth straight victory.

Murry Dickson, the ex-Cardinal who was sold to the Pirates for $125,000, accounted for his third victory, two over St. Louis, by an eight-inning relief job. Dickson has lost 11.

Tiges To Try Again Against The Browns; Have Lost 5 In Row

St. Louis, July 7 (AP)—The last-place St. Louis Browns refused to give up and beat the Detroit Tigers in 13 innings last night, 6 to 5.

Losers now in five straight games, the Tigers will try a comeback with Lou Kretlow (1-2) on the mound in another night game tonight.

Last night's Brownie win was pretty much the property of Rookie Jack Graham. The young first baseman hit two home runs, one to tie the score in the 12th when Detroit looked like a shoo-in.

Three hits and a walk off relief pitcher Art Houtteman settled it at midnight in the 13th after three and a half hours of play.

Houtteman came in for the tiring Virgil Trucks, who gave up in the 12th in his fourth futile try for his 11th victory.

The loss dropped Detroit a full game behind the league-leading New York Yankees and left the Tigers in danger of yielding fourth place.

George Kell was Detroit's customary bright star. He hit his third homer and two singles.

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD
Sports Editor

Judging by the unprecedented public response to swimming classes in Escanaba, Gladstone, at Twin Springs park. Sac Bay and elsewhere in Delta county, parents are paying heed to the danger of drowning and deciding that perhaps it's better, after all, if junior learns to swim.

Of course, it's better! He or she will not only learn to respect water, but junior will learn that water is buoyant and that it will support a person easily with a little cooperation on the part of that person. Swimming is not a difficult sport to master if one has the proper approach.

That proper approach is provided in classes supervised in Escanaba by accredited water safety instructors of the American Red Cross, who are serving as life guards and swimming instructors, and in Gladstone and throughout the townships by capable employees of the Red Cross.

Cuff notes: Ed Poquette, ex-Marquette Legion junior player and member of the Marinette Marines, has signed a Chicago White Sox contract and is slated next season for Superior in Class C ball. . . . Chisox scouts are reported interested in Ray Menard and Walter Flath, of Escanaba, but as yet roving scout Bill Ranguette of Escanaba reports no wet ink on the contract.

No word from Munising about the 11th district Legion baseball playoffs there tomorrow and Saturday, or just Saturday. . . . The drawings were supposed to be held last night for a single elimination tournament but the pony express from Munising broke down. . . . They're having troubles in Iron River also. . . . Lack of official entry blanks from down below.

Observation on effect of television on sports attendance: If one or both teams have a poor record, video may hurt. . . . If both are sharp, it won't. . . . All we want to know here, anyway, is when is it coming.

All-Star Chiefs Follow Fan Edict In Naming Teams

New York, July 7 (AP)—The Major League All-Stars won't settle their annual argument until Tuesday in Brooklyn, but the nation's baseball fans already have won.

The All-Star squads followed exactly the dictates of the 4,637,743 fans who balloted for their favorites.

Managers Lou Boudreau of the Americans and Billy Southworth of the Nationals were bound to use only the top choice for each of the eight positions. But they exercised their judgment solely in the pitching department which wasn't included in the popular voting.

Two additions brought on by

Chisox Take Tribe, 9-6

Chicago, July 7 (AP)—Bud Souchock's base-clearing eighth inning double gave the Chicago White Sox a 9-6 victory over the Cleveland Indians last night.

CHATHAM TESTS GAIN VARIETY

Seek Strain Suited To Northern Climate

Finding suitable grain varieties for northern growing conditions is one of the research projects carried on continuously at the Upper Peninsula Experiment Station, according to Arthur R. Wolcott, station corps and soils specialist.

Not only are the experimental plots at Chatham station planted to grain variety tests each year, but work is being carried on in Upper Peninsula counties where soils and climate differ.

Farmers' Round-Up, scheduled for Friday, August 5, at Chatham will give farmers a good opportunity to see how this work is carried out and to ask questions regarding their grain growing problems.

Oats, most extensively grown feed grain, will be represented by 26 different varieties. Research is in progress to find rust resistant oats and the new blight-resistant Bond crosses such as Bonham and Kent will be growing at the Experiment Station.

Eleven varieties of spring wheat are being tested at Chatham this year and 16 varieties of barley, including Bay and Wisconsin 38, will be shown.

The county tests are being conducted to find which of the many grain varieties will perform best under the varying growing conditions in the Upper Peninsula, Wolcott explains.

Tours of the grain plots, under the direction of D. L. Clannahan, extension farm crops specialist, J. L. Heirman, Delta county agricultural agent, Clayton Reid, Schoolcraft and Alger, and Fred Biekkola, agricultural agent of Baraga county and Wolcott will be conducted during the morning round-up program.

GRAND MARAIS

July 4th Celebration

Grand Marais, Mich.—Grand Marais celebrated the 4th beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning with the annual parade and ending in the evening with a dance at the VFW cottage.

Following the parade in the morning races were held on main street for the young and the old.

The 4th of July queen, Mary Jane Erickson, was presented with gifts from Grand Marais merchants and her four tiny ladies in waiting each received a small prize also. The ladies in waiting were, Dianne Pell, Linda Erickson, Sharon Miller and Helen Pichel.

There were various types of entertainment throughout the day including a baseball game, guessing games and number games and boat rides.

To the sorrow of all, the annual boat races, fireworks display and Grand Marais' pride and joy, the "Water Carnival," all had to be postponed until July 5 because fog made racing on the bay dangerous and would have obscured most of the proceedings. And so, for the first time in our history, folks went home disappointed as these features combine for the highlight of the 4th in Grand Marais.

During the morning Larry Nyman gave everyone a scare when he ran into a car driven by John Strun. Larry was being pursued by small friends with pea shooters and darted into the side of the moving vehicle.

He was taken immediately into Alfred Lundquist's home and it was lucky that he received only superficial injuries.

Personals

July 4th weekend found many one-time residents of Grand Marais back for a few days of fun and frolic with relatives and old friends here.

Mrs. A. S. Tullock reversed the proceeding and left here to spend the weekend in Marquette.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Wickland and twin sons Ronald and Donald of Marquette forsook the centennial to enjoy the 4th here. They arrived in town in full regalia. Gertrude wore a beautifully ruffled gown with huge leg-o-mutton sleeves and a bustle back that had been worn by an aunt in the days of long ago and Emil, of course, was decked out in a full beard and the top hat of the days of yore.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bleckner also went to Marquette Friday where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Francis Bleckner and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bleckner during the centennial celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Titthill of Grand Rapids are spending a week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Soldenski and Mrs. Titthill's father, Mr. I. Smith.

Mrs. Edward Bennett who is taking the summer course at Northern Michigan College of Education in Marquette, was home to spend the 4th with her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Monte Ocha of Detroit are vacationing in Grand Marais. Monte lived here years ago and enjoys visiting with old friends.
